Re: Engage grant proposal with Dr. A. B. Bot, University of Canada

Dear NSERC:

This letter is to acknowledge our support for the Engage Proposal entitled "Catching Road Runners with Advanced Data Analysis", as submitted by Dr. A.B. Bot at the University of Canada. Dr. Bot is a leader in the discipline of analytics applied to fast road runners, and we are please to be involved in this research project with his team.

As roadrunners are an essential food source for a large variety of predators in the Canadian ecosystem, the advances promised through this research partnership will have an immediate and direct impact on many aspects of the Canada economy, including....

Our company has long been involved in the pursuit and capture of road runners, through the use of traditional means such as dropping anvils and setting traps filled with birdseed. Moving to more advanced methods including data analytics holds great promise for making our operations more competitive and profitable.

We look forward to a positive decision on the grant application, and a successful outcome to the collaborations.

Sincerely,

Dr. Wile E. Coyote
